ANNOUNCEMENTS

DAVIS THEATRE.

William S. Hart in The Disciple, Triangle Feature Today and Three New Keith Vaudeville Acts Keystone Comedy, Saved by Wireless.

Comedy, Saved by Wireless.

William S. Hart, whose methods have been a large factor in reviving the popularity of the western drama, will be the special attraction at the Davis the last half of this week in the new Triangle feature, The Disciple, a five part Ince production and Mr. Hart's first appearance in the Triangle plays. This feature is a real thrilling, gripping drama of the west and shows Hart as a frontier minister, who conquers at the point of a revolver, the hostility of the cowpunchers to religion, and building his church, only to split with God because his wife elopes with Doc Hardy, an ex-physician and the village saloon keeper. This is one of the finest photoplays Mr. Hart has ever appeared in and his excellent and forceful acting throughout the entire production keeps everyone convincingly entertained and thrilled. The Triangle Keystone on this bill is called Saved by Wireless, a two reel Mack Sennett production featuring Chester Conklin and Mack Swain. Of all the daredevil stunts ever pulled off in a comedy picture, Saved by Wireless has everything beat. There will also be a complete change of vaudeville today and three excellent acts have been booked for this change. The feature is Marjorie Fairbanks and Company, who present a comedy sketch called The Elopement. This is a clever, refreshing rural comedy acted by four talented people. Another good act is John J. Black and Sue Milford, a singing and talking duo, who have a novel offering called Types from Life. The third act is The Two ducing a clever canine performer. Friends, in a juggling specialty intro-ducing a clever canine performer. Matinee today at 2.15, all seats 10 cents: evening at 6.45 and 8.45, prices 16, 15 and 20 cents. Concert orches-tra at every performance.

ANDREW MACK.

The Famous Irish Singer Coming to the Davis Friday Evening.

As a composer of songs, Andrew Mack, the sweet singing comedian, now starring in The Irish Dragoon, which will be seen at the Davis theatre Friday evening, January 14th, is no novice, but strange to say, while has talents in this direction prove he has talents in this direction prove he might have successfully done so, Mr. Mack never has pursued song writing for the income it might bring. Instead, he writes them chiefly for his own pleasure and as musical embellishment for the plays in which he appears. As the Irish drama has been his forte, naturally they conform usually to that form of expression, yethe has composed some of the sentihe has composed some of the senti-mental gems of the time, often creat-ing a stage vogue for a certain class of song. Such was the case when he and a lyricest chum were the first to idealize New York clum life with a touch of human sentiment long denied Seats are now on sale for this en-gagement. Prices from 25c to $1.50 with 500 good seats downstairs at $1. If you want to enjoy a good old fash-ioned Irish play with pretty Irish songs don't miss this show.

COLONIAL THEATRE.

"The Toast of Death," Five Act Mu-

The Toast of Death, a gripping screen drama, the feature at the Colo-nial theatre today, tells of love, jealousy and intrigue, so characteristic of picturesque India. in which the scenes are laid. They dominate each of the five acts of this massive Mutual masterpiece. The opening act of this film reveals Mile. Poppea, leader of the Imperial ballet, who has fascinated and enthralled all Calcutta. British and native officers are ready to lay their hearts at her feet. Cospicuous among her admirers are Captain Drake of the Royal Singapore Blues, and Prince Yar Kahn of Her Majesty's Bengalese dragoons, and one of the richest and most influential princes of India. Drake has little, however, outside of most influential princes of India. Drake has little, however, outside of his measure income as an army officer, while his rival of royal blood, as Poppea after a short deliberation realized, had the means of granting her anything she might desire. After seeing the famous Poppea in one of her most gorgeous ballets, the Prince urgently insisted that she marry him at an early date. The glitter of state life attracted her and she consented. Later the entire Indian army was ordered to the great southlands, hundreds of miles from Calcutta. Poppea was obliged to follow her husband, the heart-broken captain following, to bathe in the sunlight of his adored one's face. The Prince, ignorant of the love flame still burning, invites the captain to his home. It is here that the sensational incidents occur. The Toast of Death gets its name from the big climax of the whole picture, but it must be seen to be appreciated. Magnificent British soldiery takes place before the camera, and the whole picture-teems with the glory of military life. Other remarkable films are on today's bill also, and the Colonial augmented orchestra will accompany this picture tonight.

big modern and whirlwind dancing act will be the feature vaudeville attrac-tion. This act is a European novelty and has been making a big hit throughout New England in the larger throughout New England in the larger vaudeville theatres. It comes to Norwich very highly recommended. The other two acts on the bill today and for the remainder of the week will be presented by Goldie Pemberton, a very pretty young lady of a decided blonde type who does a comedy singing and talking specialty and John Zimmer, introducing some very funny and difficult juggling stunts. On the picture cult juggling stunts. On the picture program the twentieth number of the Paramount travel series will be shown, as well as the big five reel Paramount feature. The Fighting Hope, with the popular dramatic woman Laura Hope Crews in the leading role. This is one of the finest pictures that has been seen here this season and everyone who saw it yesterday was very much pleased with it. The feature Paramount for tomorrow and Saturday will be John Barrymore in the Incorrigible Dukane.

James L. Case has sold for the estate of Beriah S. Rathbun the three story brick apartment known as No. 8 Church street, to John E. Fanning. The property was owned and one apartment occupied for many years by the late Mr. Rathbun, who was a well known stair-builder of the city, some of whose work now remains in the city hall and other public buildings of the city. Mr. Fanning will make improvements to the apartments, placing them in modern condition for rental. ental.

Mr. Case has also leased for a term

Mr. Case has also leased for a term of years for the Parker-Davenport company the office at No. 21 Broadway, formerly occupied by the late Dr. Rush W. Kimball, to Frank W. Guild, the jeweler. The office will be remodeled into an up-to-date store and will be occupied on February 1st by Mr. Guild. Mr. Guild has been for three years in his present location at No. 56 Main street. The store is to be refinished on walls and floor, new plete glass window put in, door changed to make a single door with a small window next to it, and improvements made to the sidewalk cellar covers.

ers.

Other leases made by Mr. Case this past week have been the cottage house at No. 257 Washington street for Dr. Frank C. Atchison and half the double house No. 115 River avenue for Her man A. Wulf.

LITTLE PIMPLES ON FACE, NECK

And Hands. Became Scaly and Skin Was Sore. Ashamed To Go Out. Lasted Three Months.

HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"One night before retiring I was troubled with an itching and in the morning I found that my face was all broken out with little pimples, and then they came on my neck and hands. The pimples became scaly and my skin was so sere that I had to bathe it with cold water to keep the pain down, and I scratched and my face became crupted. I was so red and sore I was ashamed to go outdoors at all. It lasted about three months.
"I tried — and — to no purpose.
A friend told me to try Cuticurs Soap and Ointment so I did, and after using three cakes of Cuticurs Soap and one-half a box of Cuticurs Ointment I regained my complexion, and was completely healed."

POETRY

E'RE NOT GOING TO THE DOG

For this good old ship, America, has weathered many a gale.

She has sailed through many thicker fog before.

And her crew have learned the habit of not knowing how to fail.

However the stormy seas around may rear;

She is staunch and stout and roomy, and though seas and skies be gloomy.

Let us leave all coward creaking to the frogs.

Let us face in manly fashion all the panic and the passion.

For this country is not going to the dogs! dogs!
Denis A. McCarthy, in the Journal of Education.

Upon a night, long after I had died, I rose and passed the portals of Her heart. Therein no wreck nor ruin I espied; But fair and quiet its dim-lit chambers And a secret silence breathed in every And a secret silence breathed in every part.

And I, who once had dwelt there, stood and sighed.

And thought, "While I have slept in the cold clar.

How soon the stains of grief were washed away.

That soon some tehant new might here ablde!"

And as I thought, one quickly entered in. And in his hand, the key to every door.
I bowed my head and turned away and said:
"Pardon if I return here from the dead;
I dwelt here once, tho' I dwell here no But he the keys did place my hands within.

And said. "Whate'er thy steward's is is thine:
My name is Memory, and this place is mine!" -Charles C. Nott, Jr.

Buoyant prosperity despite the war time tendency to depression is reflected in the November statement of Canadian trade. It reached a total of $154,000,000, as against $125,000,000 in the corresponding month of last year. Domestic exports aggregated $22,000,000 and imports $45,000,000. The balance of the total was the trade in coin and bullion.
